

Date: 17-04-2017

As part of IITGN waste management initiatives, and to minimize waste going to landfills, the food & organic waste from all across campus space (green bins) go to the IITGN biogas plant. This biogas plant established in collaboration with BARC generates manure and electricity from the food and organic waste with no other by products. It is designed to help save 1 tonne of waste from going to the landfills each day and in turn generate manure and electricity from them.