

Feeding of Dogs & Feeding Spots

Ours is a green campus with an appreciable presence of animals. Notably, there is a healthy population of dogs on campus. Please note the following points with regards to interactions with campus animals, especially dogs:

1. Sterilization and Vaccination: The IITGN Animal Management Committee (AMC) manages routine sterilization and vaccination of campus dogs against diseases such as Rabies on a regular basis. Most dogs are vaccinated. However, there may be new unvaccinated animals around. Vaccinated and sterilized dogs are RFID-tagged.

2. Feeding and other Interactions: Animal (including dogs) feeding is restricted to specific dedicated feeding spots only. The feeding spots have to be cleaned up after the feeding activity is over for each round. Recently there have been a number of dog bite incidents, mainly near some food outlets. Kindly note that animal feeding and petting at the eateries is not allowed as per Institute's policies. Also, any act that encourages dog presence there shall be stopped in the interest of public safety. In case of a dog attack, please do take medical advice.

3. Following are the Feeding Spots you may use:

The spots shall be cleaned up by the users after feeding.

4. Leading animals into the Built-up areas: In the paved and built-up areas, we shall not indulge in activities that will encourage animal presence. These areas are frequented by kids, elderly and visitors. Our interactions with the dogs shall take into consideration general public safety.

5. Moving the Animals: It is forbidden to import animals from outside into the campus on any pretext. Similarly, we shall not displace/move/hurt/harm animals on campus. In case of a safety concern, please act judiciously in the interest of safety of your own self and others around you. We shall feel free to harmlessly shoo away any inconveniencing dogs.
